

John Stalts (Reville, pg. 69)

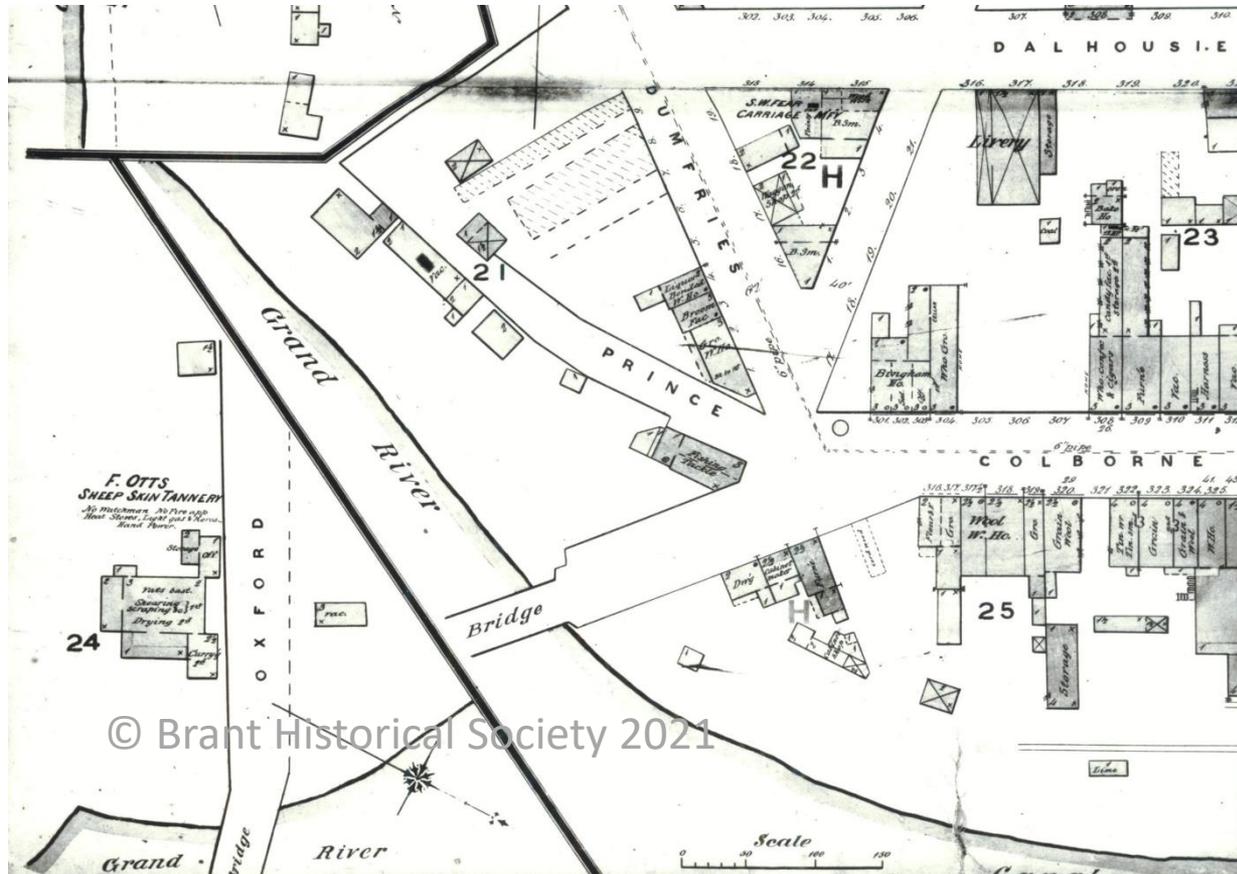

Apparently the first inhabitant was a man named John Stalts, and it is quite probable that he was a half breed. In 1805 he erected a log hut, where the memorial now stands to the fallen heroes of the South African War, at the front of the Armouries property facing Colborne Street. In later years J. P. Excell had a tavern there, over the door of which swung a sign bearing the words:

"This sign hangs high
And hinders none.
Refresh and pay
Then travel on."

J. P. Excell's building in the distance

1875 at the Armouries

1915 at the Armouries

Plan 31 – c. 1854

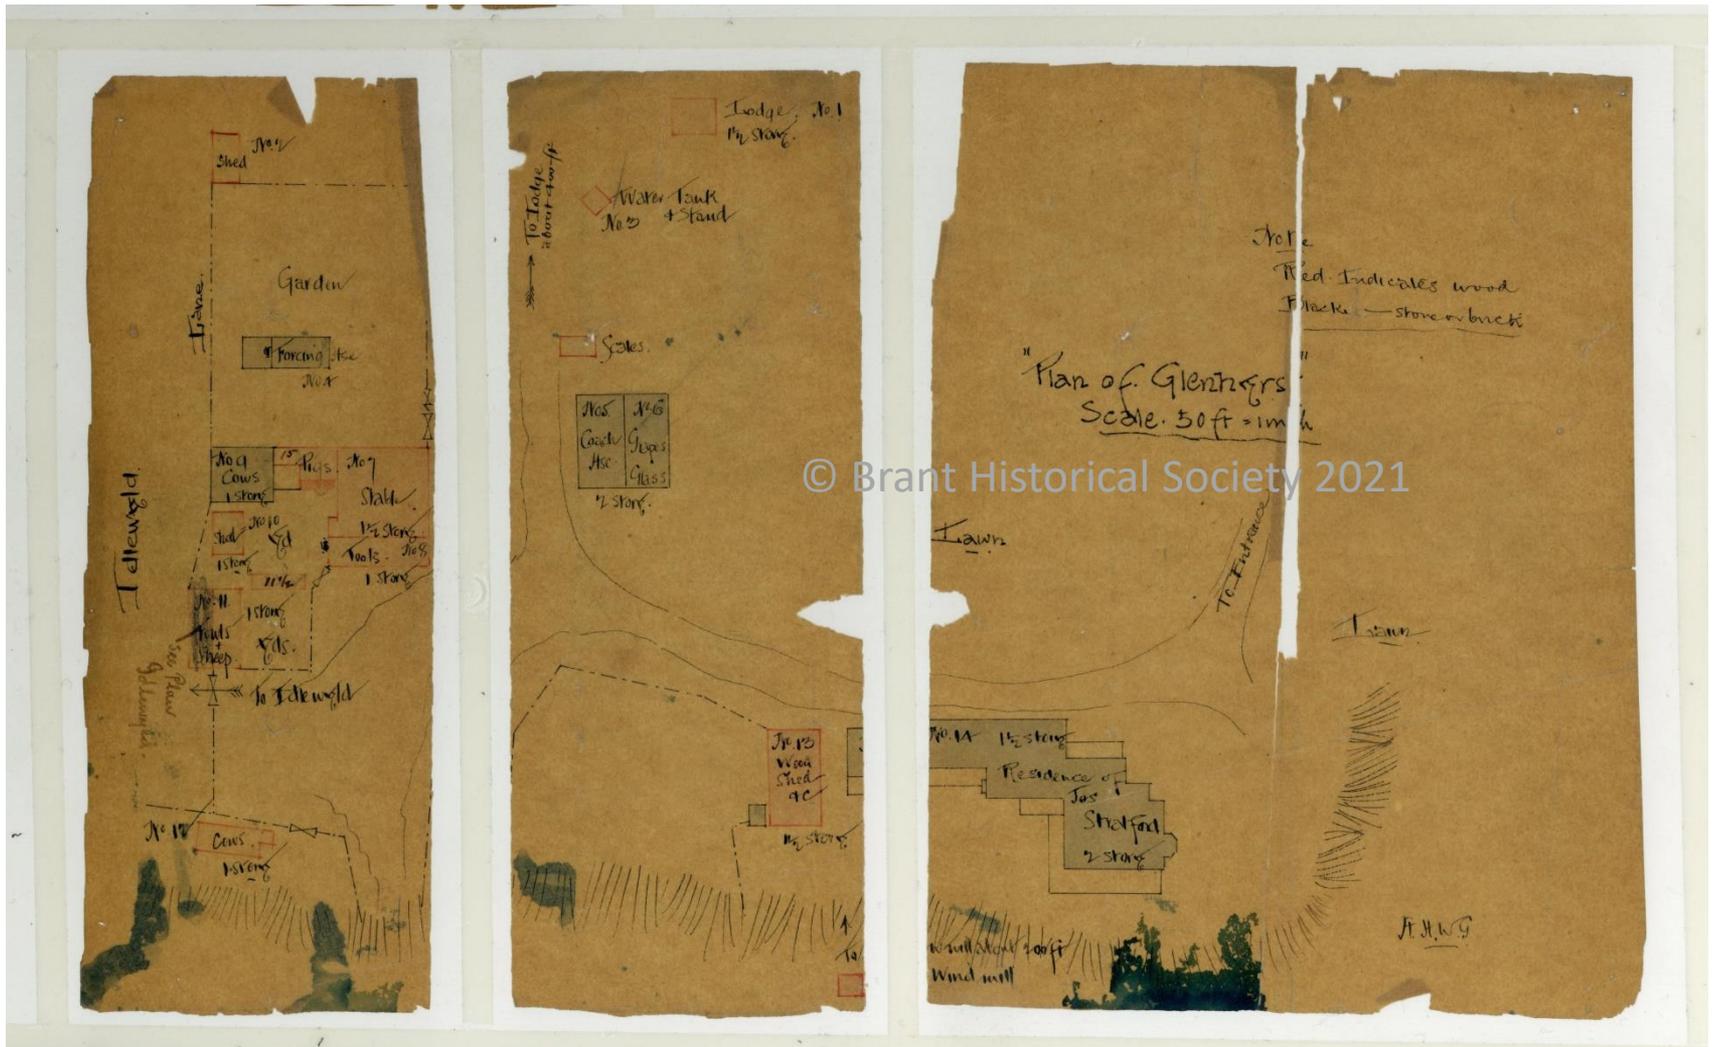

J. S. Hamilton's Residence

© Brant Historical Society 2021

1993.26.1 – Plan of Glenhyrst

Stratford Hospital from St. Pauls Ave

© Brant Historical Society 2021

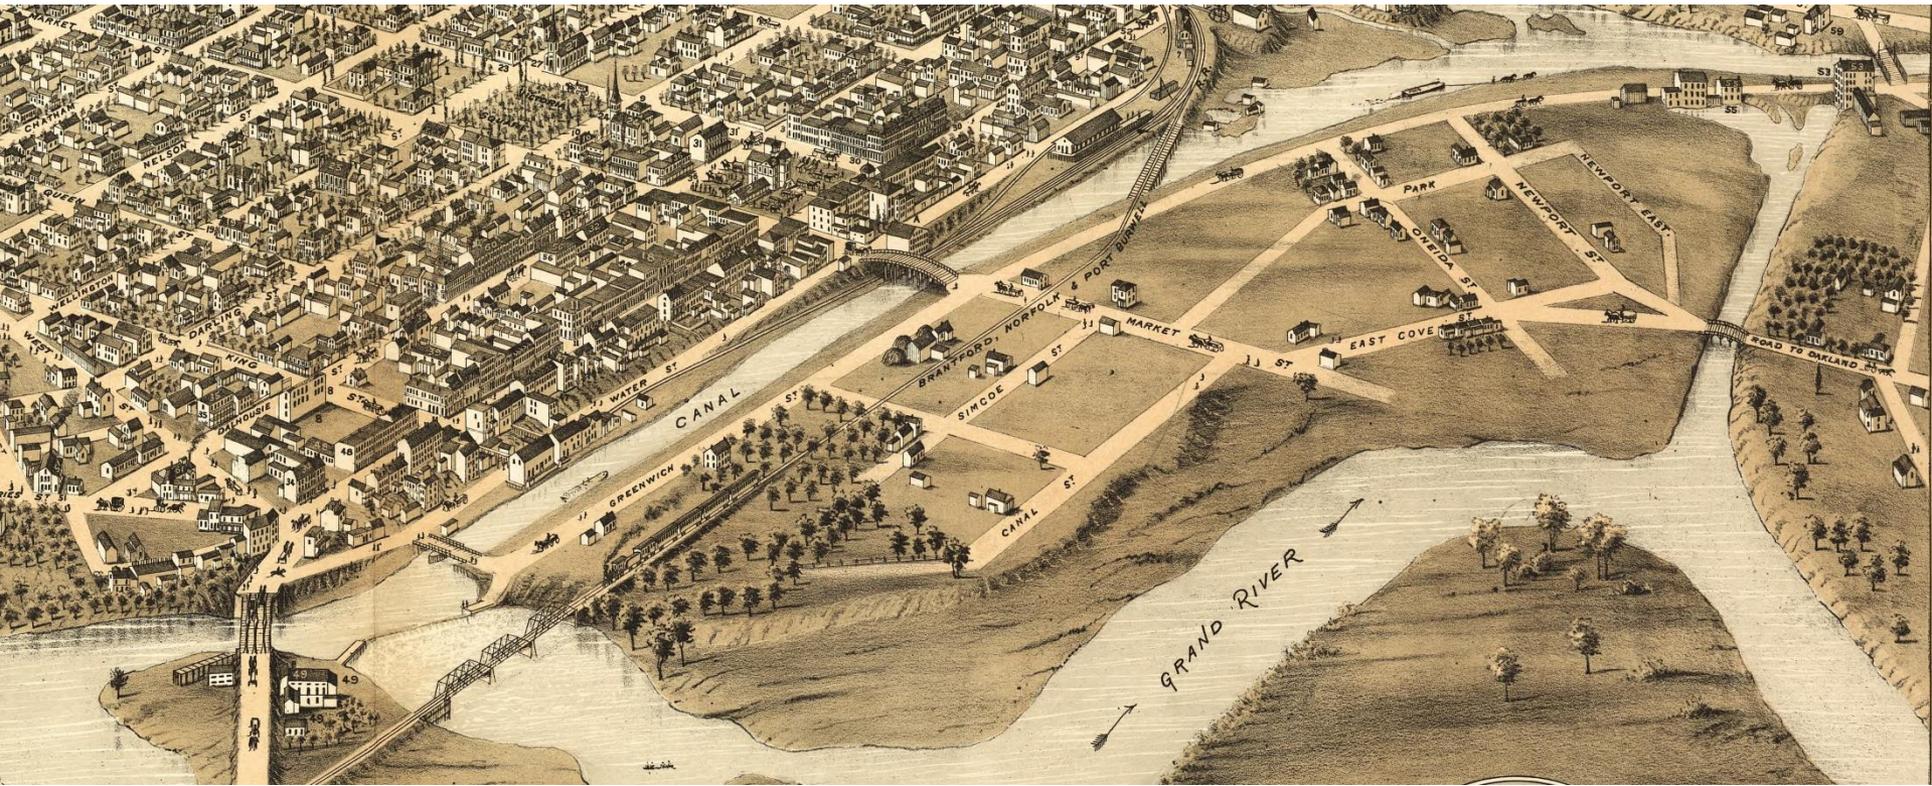

Addition to hospital

Addition of the Nurse's residence on right side of photo

1875 Market Street South

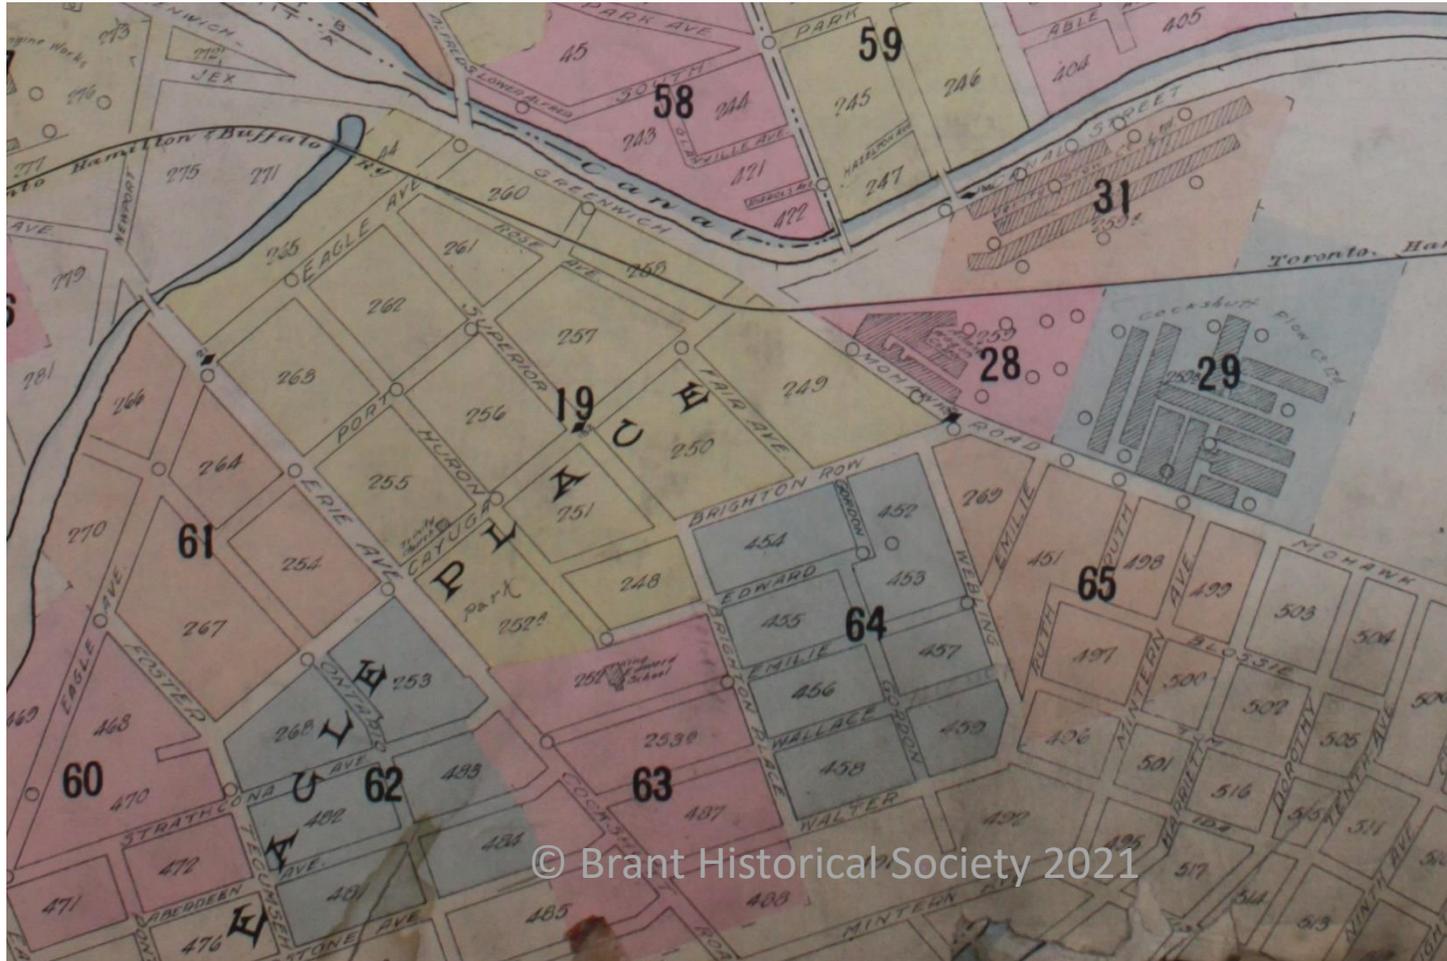

Market Street South 1915

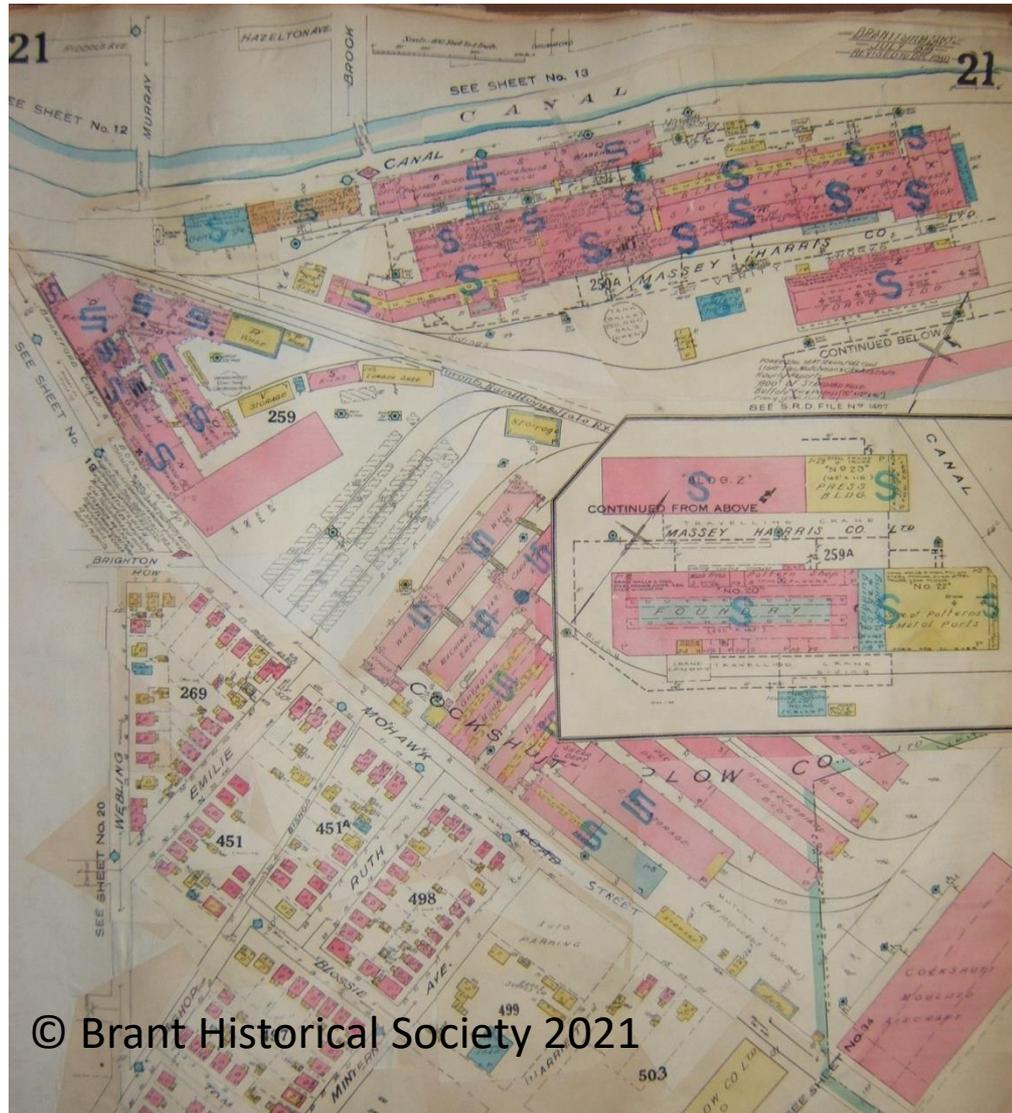

Market Street South – Fresco Plaza

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries 1915

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries 1950

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries

© Brant Historical Society 2021

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries

© Brant Historical Society 2021

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries

Mohawk-Greenwich Industries

